MAKING HISTORY
TOGETHER

NORTHERN BC'S MUSEUM

The Exploration Place

From business meetings to receptions and parties, The Exploration Place is a spectacular venue for your event. Surrounded by our region's history, dinosaurs, and thousands of plants, including our massive living wall, you won't find anywhere else that makes an impression quite like it.

Our own Origins Kitchen will provide you with delicious, locally-sourced catering. We are also a licensed facility and are happy to provide liquor service for your event.

Our experienced team will devote themselves to making sure you and your guests have an experience to remember. Your rental makes a difference – by renting our facility, you are supporting a Northern BC non-profit organization and registered Canadian charity.

THE EXPLORATION PLACE

Gaia Gallery

Greeted by lush, green foliage and towering ancient forests, you look around and realize you are not alone in this strange landscape.

Exposed rocks reveal remnants of prehistoric ocean life while reptilian creatures lurk in the underbrush. A trail of giant footprints leads you to an enormous, armoured goliath that once walked these lands. Immerse yourself in this ancient world and imagine what it was like to live during this time. This gallery offers booth seating for guests to enjoy their surroundings while learning about British Columbia's ancient past from 565 to 66 million years ago.

This stunning gallery is the perfect unique setting for your event, and can be rented on its own or with full access to the rest of our museum galleries.

CATERING

Origins Kitchen

Chef Jeni Arnott and her Origins Kitchen team are sure to make your event a memorable one, providing you with delicious, locally-sourced catering.

We are also a licensed facility and are happy to provide liquor service for your event.

From appetizers and finger food to full-course meals, Origins Kitchen will work with you to create a custom menu that will meet your needs.

MUSEUM GALLERIES

Link Gallery

This gallery connects the paleo world with our current Biome by introducing visitors to Ice Age megafauna and living fossils—the Nechako White Sturgeon—that have survived from the time of the dinosaurs to the present.

George Phillips Exhibit Gallery

The George Phillips Exhibit Gallery hosts travelling and locally curated in-house exhibits embracing a vast array of topics.

Hodul'eh-a: A Place of Learning

The city of Prince George is situated on the unceded ancestral territory of the Lheidli T'enneh First Nation. This permanent gallery has been developed together with our partners from the Lheidli T'enneh.

Mosaic Gallery

The Mosaic Gallery showcases neighbouring First Nations and highlights repatriation work being done in partnership with many Indigenous communities in BC's central interior.

Ted Williams History Centre

The Ted Williams History Centre contains permanent exhibits on the post-contact settlement history of the region, highlighting the many diverse groups that contributed to what we now know as Prince George.

Biome

The Biome is home to over 20 Animal Ambassadors (and counting!) Our Animal Ambassadors are the most unusual (and most popular) members of our team—those who sport exoskeletons and those who eat mice! They play a crucial role in connecting people of all ages with nature, environmental conservation, and the issues influencing each species and their native habitats. Each animal helps us spark a life-long interest in learning.
